District & Community

AHISD serves the communities of Alamo Heights, Olmos Park, Terrell Hills, and a portion of north San Antonio. The district was founded in 1909 as a rural school district and became an independent school district in 1923. Approximately 29,750 people currently live in the district, which covers an area of 9.4 square miles. One early childhood center, two elementary schools, one junior high school, and one senior high school accommodate the district’s current enrollment of 4,883 students. The district has a diverse economic base, with much of the student body coming from upper-middle class homes, while approximately 25% percent of the students are economically disadvantaged. Alamo Heights ISD was named the Best Small School District in Texas in 2017 in the HEB Excellence in Education Awards.

Our School

AHHS is a traditional four-year public high school that is known for its commitment to academic excellence with a curriculum that is primarily college preparatory. AHHS consistently ranks in the Top 1% in the nation for college preparation, according to The Washington Post and Newsweek. AHHS athletics and other extracurricular programs are consistently ranked in the Top 10 in Texas and receive many national awards as well.

Curriculum

AHHS has designed programs to meet the needs of students at several levels: Dual Credit, AP, Pre-AP, and grade level. Courses that carry the title “AP” follow the College Board’s AP curriculum (listed on page 2). Currently, dual credit enrollment courses are offered through the Alamo Community College District for the following courses: English III, English IV, Spanish IV, Statistics, and Biology. The school year consists of two 18-week semesters. The daily school schedule is comprised of seven 50-minute class periods.

Grading and Ranking System

GPA/Rank Calculation. For students entering high school in the 2015-16 school year and beyond, rank in class shall be determined by grade averaging, which includes grades earned in all credit courses taken in grades 9-12, including PE/PE substitution, but excluding night classes, correspondence courses, summer school courses taken outside AHISD, grades made through credit by exam, grades earned outside the U.S.A., and pass/fail grades.

Weighting. Grades of 70 and above in GT, Pre-AP/AP, and DC courses earn extra points based on a 1.1 multiplier. The weighted grades are used in computing grade point averages and class rank; however, numerical grades for individual courses on a student’s transcript do not reflect the added points.

Failing Grades. If a student takes a course and fails it, the failing grade is included in his/her cumulative grade point average. If the student takes the course again, the second grade (whether passing or failing) is also included in the cumulative grade point average.

Transfers from Other High Schools. Students who transfer from out-of-district are treated as follows:
- AHHS will accept enriched, honors, Pre-AP/AP/DC, and any courses designated as such on the official transcript from an accredited school.
- Weighted points will not be awarded for enriched, honors, and Pre-AP/AP courses not offered at AHHS
- Transfer grades are recorded using the numerical equivalent on the grade conversion scale of the sending school.

Student Voices

“I’ve been attending Alamo Heights schools since first grade and I’ve always been amazed by the passion of the faculty. Alamo Heights has always done its best to offer a variety of courses for the different interests of its students. The culture is very inclusive and it’s hard not to find your clique.”—Spencer O’Neill

“What’s great about Alamo Heights is the incredible dedication of the district to constantly improve. The student body is academically driven and strives for success in the classroom, and in athletics.”—Ava Steindl

“The best thing about Alamo Heights is definitely the staff and how amazing they are. From the teachers, counselors, coaches, and custodial staff, everyone is so supportive and has amazing school spirit.”—Caiya Wiltshire
